SENATE AGREES ON ARMY BILL

orders from Washington and that 90 per cent of the Mexican people would support such action. He also declared that representatives of General Carranza were negotiating with foreign governments against the United States and that this government would be forced to fight foreign forces on the Mexican soil if it did not soon do its full duty to the people of Mexico and the United States.

Attack on National Guard.
Senator Borah, of Idaho, renewing his attack on the national guard as a political force, declared that it would prove to be more detrimental to the United States than an invading army. He arraigned the army bill, the former Irish executions, declaring there had been no greater blow to free institutions since the European war began.

Lodge and Stone Criticize Army Bill
Senator Lodge and Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee also criticized the army bill, the former blaming the house for not accepting a larger army proposed by the senate and the latter maintaining that the proposed army was too great. Senator Stone said he was so anxious to see the nitrate provision enacted that he would almost be willing to agree to any size army necessary, but insisted there was no need of an increased army.

Sees No Need for a Larger Army.
"I see no need now or at any time in our history, for a larger army," he said. "The enlargement of the army would entail a very grave and useless burden. The only use for an army is to attack an enemy or defend our own soil. There isn't a senator nor a member of the house nor a man in any of the executive departments of the government who will say we are in danger of assault on land by an invading army of any country on earth."

Brandegee Disgusted.
Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, author of the amendment for a regular standing army of 250,000 men at peace strength, which was rejected by the conference, declared that the English language was inadequate to express his disgust at the conference action and said that he hoped "the good Lord who guards the drunkard and the fool will save the nation."

To Put Measure Into Effect.
Secretary Baker said tonight that as soon as President Wilson signed the bill he would begin consultations with the general staff to put the measure into effect. He began studying the conference report tonight, taking a copy with him on a trip to New York.

Stocks Under Restraint
At the opening, but without persistent pressure until midday, when most of the specialties and allied issues fell sharply on rumors that threatened a revival of recent international difficulties. There were rallies from the low levels of that period, but they failed to hold, despite the strength of Reading, which featured the advance of 2 1/2 to the new high record of 93 1/4.

Munitions and Motors were at all times variable, but not heavy. The latter scoring extreme recessions of 3 to 5 points, with losses of 1 to 3 in the so-called munitions. The one exception to the general downward tendency in the war stock shares was General Electric, which recorded a gain of 2 1/4 on its rise to 170 3/4. Interactions of the Copper, Aluminum, and Steel industries, gained a maximum of 1 1/2 to 2 1/4.

Mexicans were firm during the forenoon, but fell away with copper and other metals on increased offerings later. United States Steel was more prominent than yesterday, but its activity was largely at the expense of its strength, closing as practically a point loss.

Aside from Reading, the tendency of the market was downward. Canadian Pacific yielding much of its recent rise, with material recessions in other standard issues of that division. Mercantile Marine bade fair to make new records at one time, but gave way towards the end, when the way of prices indicated an excess of supply over demand. Total sales of stocks amounted to 710,000 shares.

Receipts of additional gold from Canada, imported further strength to sterling and francs, but trading in foreign remittances was almost nominal.

Demand for Anglo-French fives contributed largely to the firm market. Total sales, par value, aggregated $4,000,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.
